

Fire Department Reorganized at Tuesday Meeting

Clerk Gardner is Named Chief By Town Council To Succeed Mahan

Clerk C. M. Gardner was designated as fire chief of Montevallo by the Town Council Monday night. He succeeds Red Mahan, who resigned.

Mr. Gardner called the fire department members together Tuesday night, at which meeting a complete reorganization was agreed upon to be recommended to the Council for approval, as follows:

W. M. Davis, assistant chief; Brewer Carpenter, Phillip Arnold, and Cooper Shaw, operators of fire truck.

The fire department will ask the council to secure two smoke masks and a new spray nozzle.

Regular fire drills will be held every two weeks for practice of the firemen.

George McConatha was designated to assist Mr. Davis in handling electric wires in vicinity of a fire. Mr. Gardner and Mr. Davis, with other fire department members who can do so, will go to Birmingham to study fire fighting methods that may be adapted to use in Montevallo.

Chief Gardner says all the fire department members are much interested in their organization, and all are determined to make the entire outfit as efficient and as well-trained as possible.

The Biggest Liar

Cooper Shaw lost his championship as the biggest liar in Montevallo Tuesday night. The belt was taken away from him by Pep Jeter. This contest is an interesting feature which will be a regular item of business at the fire department meetings. Several of the boys are practicing up to dethrone Pep next time.

STORM DAMAGE REPAIRED

Luther Shaw reports that he has about completed repairs at the brick plant overcoming serious damage inflicted by the storm on the night of January 4.

The boiler room, including the 65-foot smokestack was completely demolished by the twister which struck at midnight. The fireman was on duty at the time with a full head of steam. When the storm struck and severed the steam lines, the fireman stayed with his post, pulled the fire to prevent an explosion, and found a safe place to hide in the corner until the racket was over.

"It was a heavy set-back," said Mr. Shaw, "but we have about got the damage repaired, and in a day or two will be back to normal operations."

COUNTRY BARBER SHOP

It is not unusual these modern days to find most any kind of business most any place in the country. Tradesmen are pursuing the principle that if you build a better mouse trap the world will make a beaten path to your door.

Not long ago a young man, Otis Bean, put up a barber shop a few miles from Montevallo on the Jemison cut-off. He reports that business is good. He put an advertisement in The Times last week and said he would run it some more if it helped his business. This week he came back and said: "Run my ad again. It brought me more business than the ad cost on the first day after the paper came out."

There is a "moral" for other business men in the experience of Mr. Bean. If you have a product or a service that people want to use, it will pay you to advertise it in The Times. If your product or service is not worth advertising, then you ought to quit business and change your line.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hooker of Trussville spent Sunday with Mrs. W. A. Hooker.

Funeral Rites Held For Mrs. Mary Wilkinson

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Flowers Wilkinson, 67, of 3439 Norwood Boulevard, Birmingham, who died Saturday night at her home, were held Sunday at the Norwood Methodist Church, the Rev. L. D. Patterson officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery, Brown-Service directing.

Surviving are her husband, Dr. D. L. Wilkinson; three daughters, Mrs. George A. Shook, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. W. R. Wilkinson, Milwaukee; Mrs. Troy B. Sizemore, Birmingham; a son, F. A. Wilkinson, Montgomery; a sister, Mrs. S. O. Pitts, Memphis; her stepmother, Mrs. F. A. Flowers, Montgomery; and four grandchildren.

Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson were former residents of Montevallo, while he was physician at Alabama College before Dr. Peck.

Work Is Progressing On School Buildings

Work is well under way toward beginning of actual construction on Montevallo's extensive school expansion program.

Excavations have been made for the foundations of the new Elementary Training School building and the High School auditorium, and material is being assembled. The buildings will be going up in a short time.

On the campus of Alabama College similar evidences of progress are noted. Excavation is made for the classroom and office building north of Bloch Hall, and some material has arrived. The addition to the library and the new dormitory are about through the preliminary stages.

GARRETT TRUCK LINE FOR CONTRACT HAULING

Mr. C. E. Garrett has established a truck line for contract and commercial hauling into and out of Montevallo. Mr. Earle Campbell is driver of the truck.

The truck will make regular trips to and from Birmingham, beginning this week.

Anyone interested in contacting the operator of the truck may leave calls at Phones 11 and 61-W, Montevallo, or Phone 8-2608, Birmingham.

Ex-Soldiers Wanted For Army Reserve

Colonel Frederick A. Prince, Recruiting Officer, U. S. Army, Montgomery, announces today that ex-soldiers are wanted for the newly organized Regular Army Reserve.

Requirements for admission to this service are that a man must have served at least one year of continuous service in the Regular Army and be less than 36 years of age. Being married or having dependents and regardless of how long the man has been separated from the service is not a bar to enlistment, providing he is under 36 years of age.

This offers former soldiers an opportunity to return to their former branch of service in case of a national emergency, which is the only condition under which they will be recalled to federal service. No training or summer camps are required of the ex-soldier to interfere with his civil vocation, and other advantages are available which will be explained when the former soldier applies for enlistment.

An enlistment allowance of $2.00 per month, payable every four months, is offered. This means the man will receive every four months a check for $8.00 from the Government of the United States.

Full particulars concerning this enlistment may be secured from the Army Recruiting Agent, Post Office Building, Montgomery, Dothan, Birmingham, Gadsden and Decatur, Alabama; Knoxville, Nashville, and Memphis, Tenn.; or at any Regular Army Post.

JOSEPH SZIGETI, one of the world's most famous concert violinists, who will be presented on the Concert and Lecture Series Friday evening at 8:15 in Palmer Hall.

Studiosis Club Holds Regular Meeting

The Studiosis Club held its monthly meeting in West Main Parlor at the college Tuesday evening, December 10, at 7:30.

In the absence of Miss Kennedy, Mrs. Isobel Campbell Bruce presided. At the business meeting the club considered a report of the legislative chairman, and agreed to support several items of legislation that are to be presented to the legislature this year.

Miss Lorraine Peter read an interesting paper on recent developments in Turkey and the Near East. Refreshments were served by the hostess committee; Miss Minnie Tracey, chairman; Mesdames J. L. Appleton, C. H. Mahaffey, Misses Abi Russell, Olivia Lawson, Martha Allen, Minnie L. Steckel, and Joyce Kellogg.

SEN. HARRISON GETS EIGHT COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS

In the organization of the Alabama State Senate Tuesday, our Senator, Karl Harrison, drew assignment to eight important committees, one of which he was made chairman, and another vice-chairman.

As announced in the Montgomery Advertiser Wednesday, Senator Harrison is chairman of the Senate committee on enrolled bills; vice-chairman of the committee on forestry and conservation; and member of the following committees: Judiciary, Constitution and Constitutional Revision and Amendments; Education, Immigration and Industrial Resources, Printing, Public Roads and Highways.

Clerk's Local No. 185 will hold an important business meeting in the Legion Hut, on Tuesday night, November 17. All members of the local are urged to attend.

Joseph Szigeti To Be Presented In Concert Friday

Famous Violinist Will Appear On Program in Palmer Hall At 8:15 p.m.

Joseph Szigeti, the renowned Hungarian violinist who will be heard here on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock in Palmer Hall at Alabama College, in the course of his twelfth consecutive American tour, has just acquired a world famous violin—the "Conte Baldeschi" Buarnierius. Besides the maker's label, the violin also has another label in the Count Baldeschi's typically 17th century handwriting bearing the legend, "Proprieta del Conte Baldeschi."

When Olin Downes in the New York Times first described Szigeti as "an individuality — a violinist whose art is more than the episode of a season," he foresaw what a lofty, almost isolated position this "patrician artist" was to reach in the musical life of this country. Of universal appeal, the Hungarian virtuoso is in demand everywhere and by every type of audience — for college courses and for fashionable morning musicales, for specialized music club groups and for concerts before popular mass gatherings, as soloist with the great orchestras to introduce new and difficult works or to revitalize the classic, time-worn concerti. He is, as the distinguished British critic P. Bonavia wrote, in the London Morning Telegraph, "an interpreter of genius."

Started at Thirteen

Born in Budapest, Szigeti comes from a country that has produced many great violinists, such as Leopold Auer, Joachim, Remenyi, and Jeno Hubay with whom he studied after some preliminary tuition under his father and uncle. He made his first public appearance at thirteen at the Royal Academy of his native city. Appearances in Berlin and Dresden followed, then a debut at Queen's Hall, London, where his

MRS. FLORENCE ELLEN MILSTEAD DIKES

On November 16, 1936, God in His infinite wisdom saw fit to remove from our midst Mrs. A. G. Dikes.

Mrs. Dikes was born September 26, 1889. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Thomas Milstead. She was educated in the schools of South Calera. She joined the church at the age of fourteen. She was married to Mr. A. G. Dikes November 16, 1913, and to this union were born three children, two of whom died in infancy; one, William A., died at the age of eighteen.

She leaves a devoted husband, Mr. A. G. Dikes; mother, Mrs. Margaret Milstead; and three sisters, Mrs. Theo Lucas, Calera; Mrs. R. L. Cook, Birmingham; Mrs. O. E. Dikes, Mt. Pinson; and many other loved ones and a host of friends to mourn her passing.

In her passing the town of Calera and the Methodist Church have sustained a great loss. Her faithfulness and loyalty, also her conscientious service to the community and her church shall not fade with the passing of the years. Her unfaltering efforts and personal sacrifices in carrying on the work of her Master will always be an inspiration to those who worked with her. She was a devout Christian, had a happy, kind, patient, and unselfish disposition. She loved her friends and was devoted to her loved ones; she also lived close to her Savior. Her life was full of good cheer and deeds of kindness. To know her was to love her.

We extend to Bro. Dikes and all the loved ones our deepest sympathy and share with them their sorrow.—Her Pastor, T. M. Wynn.

Miss Sallie Hooker made a business trip to Montgomery Tuesday.

Miss Beatrice Fancher spent Sunday with Mrs. C. H. Fore in Columbia.

Missionary Society Holds Meeting

The Baptist Missionary Society met at the church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock for their first meeting of the new year. This being the regular meeting for the circles, they first had a short business session then met together for a mission study.

The lesson was taught by Miss Mae Woods in her very appealing and attractive way. The book, "How to Pray," is being used for this study and is very interesting.

The Shelby County Association of W. M. U. meets with our church January 19, and plans for entertaining of visitors were discussed.

The meeting was closed by prayer by Dr. Fred B. Pearson. Those present were Mesdames J. I. Riddle, Fred Frost, Luther McGaughey, J. L. Bridges, Walter Mulkey, L. C. Horn, A. J. Wood, Edwin Allen, D. Z. Yoolley, A. C. Anderson, M. L. Hare, J. M. Kilpatrick, Pelham Thomas R. F. Ray, P. D. Pendleton, Cooper Shaw, H. W. Nelson, A. H. Watson, J. I. Reid, R. A. Reid, S. J. McGaughey, Miss Mae Wood, and Dr. F. B. Pearson.

Mrs. Eloise Carter Is Awarded Gold Pin

Mrs. Eloise Carter has been awarded her gold service pin for fifteen years of continued and uninterrupted service with the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Montevallo. She began work for the company on January 12, 1924, and has been manager of the Montevallo exchange since January 12, 1927.

In addition to answering several million calls during that period of fifteen years, Mrs. Carter's experience in serving the telephone subscribers and patrons of Montevallo has comprised a little of everything from tending to babies to milking cows. But time has not affected her cheerful smile nor dimmed her patience.

DODGE TRUCKS HERE

A caravan of six Dodge trucks from the factory visited Montevallo Tuesday for the purpose of putting on a demonstration. Unfortunately, it was a rainy day, and the show was not put on. They took a rain check, going on to other towns in this district, with the promise that they will come back to Montevallo another time.

The group included different sizes of trucks from half-ton to two tons capacity, and a variety of body types. The visit to this section was sponsored by Towery Motor Company, local Dodge and Plymouth dealers.

Mr. Walter M. Shaw made a business trip to Sylacauga Monday.

"MEET ALABAMA'S LEGISLATURE"

Having heretofore served a "sentence" as a member of the Alabama legislature, the editor of The Times finds much pleasure and more truth than poetry in reading the following from the pen of the illustrious, inimitable, unmatched and untamed Grover Hall, editor of the Montgomery Advertiser:

"Montgomery welcomes Alabama's appointed statesmen! They add color, dignity and significance to this capital city.

"Taking Alabamians as a whole they are no better and no worse than the men they elect to represent them in the legislature, and so if one is interested in seeing an authentic cross-section of the character, intelligence and flavor of the people of Alabama one can do no better than to become personally acquainted with all members of the legislature and observe them closely.

"What they think, say and do in the legislative halls is just about what you would say, think and do if you were there. And so before we begin to abuse the legislature as if it consisted of hostile, strange creatures from Mars that have planted themselves in our laps, let us have the decency to admit the obvious, which is that for better or for worse they represent Alabama!

"In this legislature are men of scholarly attainments, men of distinction in business and in the professions, there are scallawags and cheats, there are men of heroic character, men without wills of their own, men of plain origin who would die for a principle, and men of learning and breeding who would bend a knee to win a bauble.

"In this legislature are sophisticated men who know what it is all about, and unsophisticated men who know only that a small constituency sent them here to do a hitch on the watchtower of patriotism—with due regard of course to local self-interests. In this legislature are men of exalted character, men of weak character, men of brains and also dull-witted men.

"But whatever these men may be, they are Alabamians, and they are representative Alabamians. They are no better and no worse than the Alabamians that man our law offices, our banks, our medical offices, our stores, our farms, and the men that work with their hands at lowly trades.

"These men are not only Alabamians, but they are not anything else. We, the people of Alabama, deliberately elected them, and they represent US. They may go wrong, they may go right, but whatever they do it will be about the same that we would do if we were in their places."

MR. DEMPSEY HERE

Mr. H. Y. Dempsey, of Piedmont, contractor on the new buildings at the Elementary and High Schools is spending some time in Montevallo. His main interest, of course, is to get his work going but incidentally he takes time to meet our citizens and get acquainted as the opportunity affords.

Our impression is that he is a dandy good fellow, and we enjoyed shaking hands with him and exchanging a joke or two. We welcome him and his work in our community.

"LET SLEEPING DOGS LIE"

A story is told of a hitch-hiker who made it from California to New York in the record time of three days.

Asked how he made it so quick, the hiker displayed a sign which he said he put on his back at the end of every lift.

The sign said: "If you don't let me ride, I will vote for him again in 1940."

Just now there are many folks in Alabama who are ready to start out on their journey of the next four years with a sign on their

Dabney-McGaughy

Miss Martha Dabney and Mr. George McGaughy were married Friday evening, January 6, at Calera. Rev. T. M. Wynn read the vows. The only guests were Mrs. Bessie McClure of Birmingham and Mr. Teck Galloway. Mrs. McGaughy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Dabney. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. McGaughy. The young couple will be at home with the groom's parents.

Missionary Society

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. M. Shores. The meeting was the annual "Pledge Service," at which pledges for the new year's work are made, and plans for the year are discussed. The executive committee of the society was hostess.

The president, Mrs. J. P. Kelly, presided. The subject of the meeting was "New Horizons in Personal Service."

Mrs. W. F. McConaughy read the scripture, Mark 10:35-45, and Mrs. T. H. Napier had charge of the meditation, making a beautiful talk on "The Line of Discovery," after which she led in prayer.

The song "Something For Jesus" was sung by the group and Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner made a talk on "New Horizons of Sacrificial Service."

Mrs. Kelly gave her first message to the society, one which will long be remembered by everyone who was present, not only for its beauty, but also for its spiritual inspiration, for one could feel the power of the "Giver of all Good Gifts" speaking through her. Her talk was an inspiration to each one present to do their best this year in their "Pledge to God, for funds with which to carry on his work, and their pledge to give of their time and service toward God's work.

Mrs. J. A. Brown, the treasurer, made a talk before distributing the pledge cards, and a few moments of silent prayer were observed before the pledge cards were filled out, and Mrs. Brown, as pianist, played softly while "Take My Life" was sung.

The meeting was dismissed by the reading of a beautiful pledge thought by Mrs. Kelly.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed during which dainty refreshments were served to the members present and to two guests from Aldrich, Mrs. Whaley and Mrs. E. E. Craig, a former member of the society.

Mrs. Alice Yeager spent last week end in Atlanta attending the Southern Photographic Association board meeting. This meeting was called to discuss plans for the 1939 convention which will meet in Atlanta April 24-26.

Bridge Party

Miss Ellen-Haven Gould entertained at a four table bridge party Tuesday night, January 10, in honor of Mrs. Eugene Vickery, of New Orleans.

The home was beautifully decorated with snapdragons and carnations. Miss Eleanor Rennie won the high score prize, with Miss Margaret McCall taking the low score. Later in the evening a delicious sweet course was served to the following guests: Misses Lois Ackerley, Nora Landmark, Mamie Braswell, Margaret Cuninggim, Lelah Brownfield, Helen Howell, Eleanor Rennie, Blanchann Fraser, Frances Ribble, Elizabeth Conn, Margaret McCall, Katherine Vickery, Katherine Farrar, Honor Winer.

Miss Lela Wade Rice was called home Sunday night to see her mother, who fell and broke her hip.

The P. T. A. will meet Tuesday night, January 17, at the Elementary School auditorium. Dr. Anne Eastman's history class will be in charge of the program.

Miss Doris Swartzman, of Des Moines, Iowa, spent the week-end with Miss Lois Ackerley.

Mrs. W. F. Tidwell, Mrs. L. C. Parnell and Mrs. E. P. Hood attended a luncheon in Birmingham Monday.

Miss Dorothy Liles was the week-end guest of Miss Ouida Thompson.

Miss Nellie Mae Touchstone entertained a number of friends Sunday morning at breakfast, at her new apartment in the Gresky house, honoring Miss Dorothy Liles of Gadsden.

Miss Ethel Bickham has resumed her duties after a month's illness.

Miss Josephine Eddy attended a meeting of the State Legislative Council Friday in Montgomery.

Miss Lois Ackerley entertained at a bridge luncheon Saturday. Her guests were Mesdames L. C. Parnell, W. F. Tidwell, and Jim McClimens.

Miss Josephine Eddy and Miss Myrtle Brooke are on the sick list this week.

Mrs. J. F. Ford of Hartford is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, this week.

Mrs. N. E. Phillips and son, Ed Jeter, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Olin Riser in Alpine.

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Thursday, January 19, at the home of Mrs. W. M. Wyatt.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Patton and son, Tommy, of Birmingham, spent Sunday with Mrs. Patton's father, Mrs. J. W. F. Garner.

Mr. Robert James Glasscock of Anniston spent the week-end with his father, Mr. Jim Glasscock.

Misses Virginia and Margaret Evans spent the week-end with their parents in Longview.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jeter were in Birmingham Sunday.

We are sorry to report the absence of Miss Nell Sanders from her duties at the bank because of illness. Hope to see you again soon, Nell.

Miss Elizabeth Utterback went to Talladega Saturday to meet her extension class.

Mrs. R. H. Russell spent Friday night in Bessemer where she attended the annual Kiwanis Ladies Night banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Wilson and little daughter, Bobbie, spent Sunday in Clanton with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Givhan, Mrs. E. G. Givhan and Mr. J. R. Lewis spent Monday in Birmingham.

We are glad to see Mr. R. A. Reid out again after a severe attack of the flu.

DEAN FUNCHESS NAMES BEST VARIETIES OF CORN IN ALABAMA

Auburn, Ala.—It would take about 75,000,000 bushels of corn to supply the requirements of horses and mules, cows, hogs poultry, and farm families in Alabama. In 1938 the latest estimate production of corn was only 46,792,000 bushels.

A movement to make 1939 a banner year in corn yields has been started. One of the best ways to boost these yields is to plant a tested variety that is adapted to the soil conditions of the particular locality, according to M. J. Funchess, director of the Alabama Experiment Station. Corn is a very locally adapted plant and even within Alabama the yields of different varieties will vary a great deal. Tests of the Alabama Experiment Station show that the five leading varieties at different points in Alabama are:

At Alexandria—Mosby (Graham), Locker's Yellow, Douthit, Brook's Prolific, and Douthit (Marrett).

At Crossville — Douthit, Mosby (Graham), Locker's Yellow, Indian Chief (S. M.), and Whatley (Hudson).

At Belle Mina — Indian Chief (Kiker), Indian Chief (S. M.), Douthit, Mosby (Graham), and Brook's Prolific.

At LaFayette—Douthit, Hasting's Prolific, Whatley (Hudson), Local Whatley, Whatley (Whatley Bros.).

At Aliceville — Mosby (Graham), Indian Chief (Kiker), Whatley (Hudson), Douthit, and Indian Chief (S. M.).

At Brewton — Local Whatley, Whatley (Whatley Bros.), Douthit, Whatley (Hudson) and Hasting's Prolific.

At Headland — Local Whatley, Douthit, Whatley (Whatley Bros.), Hasting's Prolific, and Douthit (Marrett).

Better yields and more successful growth will be obtained with these varieties in the particular sections, Dean Funchess believes.

TREE OF LIFE

NEW YORK—This is a picture of a 60-foot statue being carved from an elm tree at South Windsor, Conn., by Lawrence Tenney Stevens. It will symbolize a great ethereal spirit and, with two smaller companion pieces representing man and woman, will be placed in a plaza at the New York World's Fair 1939.

Quarantine on White-fringed Beetle Is Established in Southern Areas

Washington, D. C.—A quarantine on account of white-fringed beetle infestations in areas in Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, and Mississippi—where this pest has become established as determined by extensive surveys during the past field season was announced today by the Secretary of Agriculture. Under the provisions of this quarantine which becomes effective January 15, 1939, the interstate movement from the regulated areas of specified commodities is subject to inspection and certification requirements.

Movement of such materials as soil, compost, manure, and balled nursery stock, as well as potatoes, and sweet potatoes, are regulated throughout the year. Bare-rooted nursery stock and other plants, beans, peas, peanuts in shells, cotton, hay and other roughage, lumber and other unmanufactured wood, building materials, used machinery, junk, and similar articles, are regulated part of the year.

The regulated areas are comprised of parts of the Alabama counties of Conecuh, Covington, Geneva, Mobile, Monroe, and Wilcox; parts of the counties of Escambia, Okaloosa, and Walton in West Florida; two entire Louisiana parishes and parts of two others, all in the vicinity of and including the city of New Orleans, as well as East Baton Rouge and St. Tammany Parishes; and parts of the Mississippi counties of Harrison, Hinds, Jackson, Jones, Pearl River, and Stone.

The white-fringed beetle, known to occur in South America, has become established in several areas in the four southern states. The eggs are deposited in soil and on various articles that may be moved in commerce, and may remain viable more than 5 months, hatching when conditions are favorable. The larvae can be transported with products which carry small quantities of soil. Adults may be carried attached to almost any object within their reach.

Both larvae and adults feed on a wide range of plants. The larvae have caused serious damage to numerous field and garden crops, and are exceedingly destructive to several important crops.

INCREASE REPORTED IN DIABETES DEATHS

Diabetes deaths in Alabama during the first nine months of this year exceeded those for the first nine months of 1937 by approximately 18 per cent, the State Department of Health announced today, basing its statement upon provisional vital statistics reports.

"Diabetes deaths totaled 251 between January and September, inclusive, of this year, as compared with only 213 for the same period last year," the State Health Department announcement stated. "Deaths from this cause totaled 304 for last year as a whole, with a death rate of 10.6 per 100,000 population. That rate was considerably lower than the 1936 rate of 12.5 per 100,000 population. Medical authorities have estimated that nearly 400,000 persons have diabetes in the United States. Although a number of conditions have been found by medical experts to be responsible for its increasing prevalence, 'easy living' luxury and indulgence are considered the leading predisposing factors."

IMMUNITY TO DIPHTHERIA INCREASES

Approximately 15,000 more school children and other residents of Alabama received immunity to diphtheria during the first ten months of 1938 than during the same period in 1937, the State Department of Health announce today. The increase was attributed in large measure to an increase in the number of county health departments, of which, since January, 1938, there has been one in every county.

Toxoid, developed several years ago by the Alabama State Health Department's laboratory and providing immunity with a single injection, was distributed to 90,660 persons from January 1 through October 31, 1938, as compared with a total of only 75,000 injections distributed during the same period in 1937.

Art treasures from all the world will be exhibited in the Palaces of Fine Arts at the 1939 California World's Fair.

KUDZU VALUE MAY REACH $100,000

Auburn, Ala. — Prospects for a $100,000 hay crop from land too severely eroded for further row-crop production are seen by Soil Conservation Service workers from 4,000 acres of kudzu planted by farmers in the erosion control demonstration area near Dadeville.

During the 1938 season, 400 acres were harvested with an average yield of 1½ tons of excellent quality hay per acre. Within the next two years the entire 4,000 acres will come into production. Farmers in the area are planning to plant another 1,000 acres during the 1938-39 season.

With an application of phosphate every two years the average yield can be increased to two tons per acre, or a total yield of 8,000 tons from the 4,000 acres already planted, according to C. E. Newman, project manager. Figuring the income on a basis of $15 per ton, which is the average price of legume hay on the farm, the value of the hay crop would thus be around $100,000 a year, he points out.

The hay, however, will be used largely to feed work animals kept on the farms and for the production of meat and dairy products for local consumption, Soil Conservation Service workers say.

HOGGED OFF PEANUTS IS SOIL BUILDING

Headland, Ala.—Peanuts that are hogged off and good crop rotations have a very similar effect on land and the succeeding crop yield as that of vetch, says J. P. Wilson, superintendent of the Wiregrass substation of the Alabama Experiment Station.

In experiments at the Headland Station Mr. Wilson obtained 14 bushels of corn where it was planted continuously without fertilizer. On the same land with a two-year rotation of corn and peanuts hogged off he obtained 34.8 bushels of corn. "Experiments show that peanuts hogged off over a period of years will give a yield of corn equal to legumes," he says.

More attention to the type of land selected for corn, better land preparation, use of locally adapted varieties of seed, and a side-dressing if the corn is not following winter legumes will be a long step toward increasing the corn yield in Alabama, say crop specialists at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn.

Thousands who visit Treasure Island each week to preview the 1939 California World's Fair have gasped at the beauty of statuary and bas relief work in exposition courts.

SOIL BUILDING IS YEAR-ROUND JOB

Auburn, Ala.—A. W. Jones, state AAA head, and J. C. Lowery, extension agronomist, this week urged Alabama farmers to begin 1939 with a study of how they can use the AAA soil building allowance to the best advantage.

The common practice is for the farmer to wait until fall to think of any of the soil building practices for which he can earn payments under the federal conservation program. However, these practices can be carried on all through the year and the same payment earned.

Soil building provisions of the 1939 program provide some of the most interesting and important changes from that in operation last year. The total Alabama soil building allowance will be increased by $700,000, which will make it possible for the state's farmers to be paid nearly $5,000,000 for practicing soil conservation in 1939, according to Mr. Jones and Mr. Lowery. Last year there were $4,000,000 available for Alabama farmers.

Some of the needed things that can be done during the coming months for which AAA payments will be made are planting pine trees, sowing lespedeza, crotalaria, and other summer legumes, establishing or improving pasture lands, using phosphate with pastures or legumes, and the application of lime on land. The planting of kudzu, on which payment has been increased to $6 an acre, can be done within the next few weeks.

Farmers are urged to see their county agent and obtain all information on these practices and others so that soil building work can be put into operation now and continued all through the year. Each farm has a soil building allowance that can be collected and the farm improved greatly.

Bulletins Are Available On Hog Farming

Auburn, Ala.—Much good information on the economical production of hogs in Alabama can be obtained from bulletins which are available at the Alabama Experiment Station and the Alabama Extension Service at Auburn. Farmers desiring these may obtain them by writing to the agency concerned.

The Experiment Station offers free leaflets on: Suggestions for Growing Hogs in Southeast Alabama; The Effect of Hogging vs. Harvesting Peanuts on Subsequent Crop Yields; and A Method of Storing Cured Pork to Prevent Infestation by Skippers. The Extension Service has bulletins on Pork Production in Alabama, and Forage Crops for Hogs.

Lespedeza sericea will suit all livestock and will make some of the best hay that can be grown in Alabama with little work, according to findings of Fred Stewart, superintendent of the Tennessee Valley substation of the Alabama Experiment Station.

A survey in Limestone County shows that one crop out of every 10 goes out of the county for the purchase of mules or horses. More attention must be given to this by Alabama farmers and to the proper feed and care of the ones now on farms, emphasizes Dr. R. S. Sugg, livestock specialist of the Alabama Extension Service.

Approximately $18,000,000 in AAA funds went to Alabama farmers during 1938 for soil building and in cotton price adjustment payments. Payments for soil building practices in 1939 will go to farmers this spring.

FOUR GOOD FARM PRACTICES LISTED

Auburn, Ala.—Four ways for a good farmer to make wise use of all his available land were outlined here this week by P. O. Davis, State Extension Service director, in discussing the heavy load that cotton has been carrying in the state.

"The 6.5 per cent of the state's cropland in cotton has been paying three-fourths of the annual fertilizer bill of $20,000,000 and for mules, implements, food and feed, and even meat," he said.

The director said he believes a farmer will be making the wisest use of his land if he does four things:

1. Take his allotted acreage of cotton, peanuts, or tobacco, and make the best use he can of the land. Make it produce the best crops more abundantly by rotation, legumes, terracing, and other good practices.

2. Make enough food and feed for the farm needs. When meat, milk, eggs, potatoes, peas, beans, turnips, fruits, and other vegetables are made at home cash money can go for other needs. Include in the farm plan a good pasture and peanuts, corn, and other feed for livestock.

3. After land for the above purposes is set aside provide pastures and grain forage crops for cattle, hogs, sheep, chickens, for sale.

4. See that land not suited for growing feed, food or pastures is in trees. By keeping fire out, pruning out undesirable trees, and by cutting wisely, a farmer may double his income from timberland in just a few years.

How
"BIG"... "RICH"...
"POWERFUL"
is this Company?

You have no doubt heard the telephone company referred to or thought of it yourself as a big, rich and powerful company.

The Southern Bell Telephone Company has to be big in order to properly serve you and more than a million other telephone subscribers in the South. It has an obligation to meet your demands for adequate and dependable telephone service, no matter how big they may be. Big, and able too, is the army of telephone workers. More than nineteen thousand of them are required to serve the South efficiently, day and night.

The riches of the telephone company consist of switchboards, buildings, wires, cables and instruments—modern telephone plant and equipment to serve more than a million subscribers. Most of this property would be valueless if the public need for service should cease.

The money received by the telephone company is continually paid out for wages, for materials, for taxes, and to bond and stockholders for the use of their savings with which the company has bought the equipment and tools needed for the service.

Every penny received by the telephone company must be accounted for. Its books are kept in accordance with the regulations prescribed by federal and state authorities. They must be kept open at all times for governmental inspection. They are audited regularly by accredited outside accountants.

All the power the company possesses is granted to it by state and federal governments. But it cannot choose its customers, and its rates and practices are regulated and controlled by governmental agencies.

The telephone company is powerful, however, in some things. It is powerful in its unity of purpose and loyalty of workers. It possesses the power of the best minds in research, invention and manufacture. It has the power of the highest ideals of service and the courage to go forward, giving the public the most service and the best at the least cost consistent with financial stability.

The Record of Bibb Graves Twice Governor of Alabama

(By F. G. Stephens)

On the battlefield the general is given credit for the success of his army, though he may be far in the rear in a safety zone.

Bibb Graves, during his two terms as governor, has not been content to stay in the rear and direct those who are serving the state, but he has taken his place at the front and said, "Come on boys, this is the way to victory." He has had the co-operation of the State Legislature and state officials, Alabama's United States Senators and members of Congress, and when we tell you of the accomplishments of his administration we mean the things that have been done under his leadership, and in most cases the ideas have originated in the mind of the governor himself. The men all the way down the line are entitled to credit for their part in the program but, as in the game of war, we are giving credit to the general without whose vision and leadership nothing would have been accomplished.

It was under the leadership of Bibb Graves that toll bridges were built to take the place of one slow and dangerous ferries, and it was under the same leadership that the tolls were lifted.

The bonded debt has been reduced more than eight million dollars under the present administration and the interest rate on other bonds has been greatly reduced. The state is living within its income and retiring these bonds long before they are due.

By cooperating with President Roosevelt he has gotten for Alabama, out of the emergency relief appropriations a total of approximately $400,000,000.

Grade crossings have been eliminated, bridges have been built and asphalt and concrete roads have been extended into every county.

More than twenty million dollars of educational buildings were erected during his first administration with ten million or more already spent for this purpose during his present administration and plans are being mapped for several million more during the next few months.

It was Bibb Graves who started the movement and is leading the fight of Southern governors to abolish the unfair freight rate differentials that have stifled the industrial development of Alabama. It is admitted by Northern governors and industrialists that if Governor Graves is successful in his fight for parity rates, the industries of that section will have to move South if they meet competition.

It was Bibb Graves who relieved homesteads in Alabama of all state ad valorem taxes.

It was Bibb Graves who sponsored a law reducing the legal rate of interest from 8 to 6 per cent.

It was through Bibb Graves that we have the Public Welfare Department, caring for the unfortunate and the forgotten among our population.

It was Bibb Graves who said in his campaign that we should have a Department of Labor, and it was created.

It was Bibb Graves who advanced the idea that the people should be represented by an attorney when their rights are being contested before the Public Service Commission sitting in a judicial capacity. The office of People's Public Service Attorney was created.

It was Bibb Graves who said that automobile tags were too high. The reduction he advocated saved the motorists of Alabama last year more than a million and a half dollars.

A just claim against the state should not have to wait for the legislature to meet for a settlement. Bibb Graves said it should be settled without delay. The State Board of Adjustment was created for this purpose.

Bibb Graves started the movement in 1927 to give every white child an equal educational opportunity. This was accomplished in the passage of the Minimum Program Law.

It was Bibb Graves, who, when he saw that the schools could not run for seven and nine months without more money, suggested to the legislature that we should have a gross receipt tax or a sales tax and such a law was created.

It was Bibb Graves who secured

Bibb, the Builder

BIBB GRAVES retires from the office of Governor of Alabama next Monday, concluding his second four-year term as the state's chief executive. He is the only man in the state's history who has served two terms as governor.

the passage of a law giving children in the lower grades free text books.

It was Bibb Graves who brought light and power into farm homes when he induced the legislature to create the Rural Electrification Authority.

When Bibb Graves said our highways must be made safer the State Highway Patrol was created by the legislature.

Bibb Graves didn't do all this by himself, but it was done under his leadership.

He didn't take the convicts out of the mines and terminate the iniquitous lease system during his first term, but he told the legislature how it could be done. He planned the maintenance of these convicts by putting some of them on the farm to produce food for others that were producing clothing for all the convicts, while some of them were placed in road camps to build and maintain our highways.

Bibb Graves gave us health laws in 1927 that have been used as a model by other states. Alabama was the first state in the union to have a health unit in every county.

To enumerate all the achievements of this administration under the leadership of Bibb Graves would consume more space than most weekly newspapers have at their disposal.

Has Bibb Graves done anything for Alabama that the people of the state should honor and respect him? He has furnished the vision and the leadership that has brought about the enactment of these laws and many other laws that have caused the people of the nation to stop and take notice.

His administration will soon come to a close, but what he has accomplished during the two terms that he has been governor will live on in the minds and hearts of those whose thinking has not been warped with envy and prejudice.

ODDITIES AT THE FAIR

NEW YORK—Here are a few of the strikingly unusual things visitors will find at the New York World's Fair 1939:

A parachute tower from which visitors may "bail out" at an elevation of 250 feet and be sure of a "happy landing."

Revolving "magic carpets" from which you may look down as from a height of two miles upon "The City of Tomorrow" inside the 200-foot Perisphere.

A "Tree of Life" carved from the trunk and branches of an elm planted in Connecticut in 1781 by Revolutionary War prisoners.

"Steve Brodie" jumping six times a day from a reproduction of the Brooklyn Bridge.

The most valuable wheat field for its size in the world in full growth.

Five million dollars worth of diamonds, rubies, emeralds and other gems in one glittering display.

The steel-walled bathysphere in which descent has been made miles down in the black depths of the ocean.

"Rocket gun" by which passengers will be shot to the moon, or Mars some day—perhaps.

The model of a human eye so large visitors may enter it and look out upon the Fair's busy scene just as if the eye were doing the looking.

Two hundred blooded cows being milked daily on a revolving platform.

An orange grove transplanted intact all the way from Florida. Automobiles with living drivers in hair-raising collisions and flying somersaults.

The largest opal in the world. An oil well in operation with real drillers in the "cast."

The largest model railroad ever constructed.

Puppets 14 feet tall dramatizing the contents of the familiar bathroom medicine cabinet.

Displays of rare orchids, renewed every three days by plants flown to the Fair from Venezuela.

The tremendous discharge of 10,000,000 volts of man-made lightning.

A Brazilian exhibit building erected on stilts.

A floor made of cotton.

Ricksha runners from South Africa six and a half feet tall and clad mostly in feathers, horns and beads.

A waterfall cascading from the high roof of a building.

Mural paintings that change their colors while you're looking at them.

Fireworks set to music in related patterns of color and light.

A city entirely populated by midgits.

An automobile speedway half a mile long on top of an exhibit building.

Mighty snowstorms sweeping down out of a clear Spring sky.

A building turned inside out with its roofbeams on the outside.

Moving chairs traveling around in a building so visitors won't have to walk.

A flight to Venus so real you'll swear you've been there and met the folks.

The tallest mural paintings in the world.

A model of New York City so large that the Empire State Building is reproduced 23 feet tall.

A sphere 200 feet in diameter seeming to revolve on jets of water, like the little silver ball in the shooting-gallery.

A fountain that sings.

Paintings that have to be destroyed every night and done all over again next morning. A "Fountain of the Atom," with electrons and protons dancing around a pulsating shaft of light.

success was so great that he remained in England for several years. In 1925 he made his first American tour, introduced by Stokowski and the Philadelphia Orchestra. Today he is acknowledged by fellow-musicians and the public of three continents as one of the greatest of living violinists.

Szigeti is Criterion

More and more, in describing other artists, one finds in the press such expressions as "the Szigeti of the piano," "Szigetian finesse," etc. These descriptions are just another indication of the fact that the art of Szigeti has become a criterion, by which other performances and other music are measured and placed.

Szigeti has played with every orchestra in the East and Middle West, in one season having had the distinction of being re-engaged by both the Philadelphia and New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestras. In this country he has appeared under such conductors as Stokowski, Koussevitzky, Stok, Gabrilowitsch, Mengelberg, Kleiber, Klemperer, Ormandy, Furtwaengler, Bodanzky, Sokoloff, Reiner, Ganz, Barbirolli, etc. In Europe he has been heard under Ansermet, Andrae, Abendroth, Arbos, Busoni, Dobrowen, Furtwaengler, Harty, Klempner, Krauss, Mengelberg, Molinari, Nikisch, Perner, Reger, Strauss, Schneevogt, Van Anrooy, Bruno Walter, Sir Henry Wood, and Ysaye.

Outside of his career, Szigeti's hobbies are books and pictures, playing chamber music with his confreres, and his daughter, Irene. "An artist," he says, "can learn a great deal from a child, from its unspoiled outlook, its lack of prejudices in values, its truthfulness."
